Dead.-We recently stated-on the information of a lady acquaintance—that a brother of the late Gen. O. M. Mitchell was living in this city, and was engaged in the Grocery We have since been informed by a gentleman who ought to know, that Mr. Mitchell died here about the time his brother died at Beaufort.

Busted.-Granny Irvin, who was sent up for 30 days, broke the lock up stairs at the Station on Wednesday morning, after the "Chief" had retired, and rasing a window in the hall, she let herself down into the street by means of the blankets from her "couch." She then mizzled out of town.

Beats the World !- Never since our knowledge of Dayton have we seen such a rush for Dry Goods, Cloaks, Notions, etc., as at the Store of Geo. H. Coles, No. 76 Main street. They are selling goods at Cost, and we are assured that there is no humbug about this; for parties who have purchased there tell us that they get goods there at much lower rates than they have since the prices went up. You who have not tried it, go to N. P.

Stop It.-The boys are in the habit of throwing stones at each other upon the streets, and they frequently injure each day when the boys were throwother ing stones that a little girl, child of Mr. for his recovery. Stephen Wolf, was struck with a sharp stone upon the head, and injured so badly that for Inform the police on boys who throw stones is really painful.

As an expression of our sympathy with the relatives and friends of the deceased, we tender the following Preamble and Resolutions:

WHEREAR, It has pleased God in his provi-

by fight which occurred between several men in this city on New Years, one of them had hin leg broken.

There were several free fights on the same day in the vicinity of "supplies," in which the participants gave and received very rough work. Each skirmish had a whisky base—of course.

On New Year day one of the most forlarn men we ever saw, arrived here from Columbus. His plug hat had a great many curren and sharp angles marring its circle; his eyes were nearly kidden, and looked as though a desperate effort had been made to gouge them out; his hair looked as though it had been partly torn out by the roots; his face was scratched and smeared with blood, and presented a frightful appearance; his coat was badly torn, the collar and a section of the back were hanging at loose-ends, while but a few ragged points of the skirts remained. Altogether he looked as though he had been made the sport of a mob, who had somehow taken the notion that he was a nuisance, and ought to be abated in the shortest possible time, without regard to labor and expense!

On inquiry we learned that at some station on the road he had got off the train to procure a drink, and he got some of the mean-est whisky he ever tasted. After he had got down the second glass he said he become irresponsible and unconscious, and couldn't remember his own name. Then he thought he had been suddenly swallowed by an earthquake, and he was crushed into a shapeless When he returned to consciousness a heap. fellow had his fingers in his eyes!

He said he pulled away, and demanded an explanation! He was informed that he had denounced the whisky as the meanest he ever tasted; that it was most as mean as Old Abe himself; that the country was going to the -l, and that Jeff. Davis would soon have ommand over all at Washington! And much more of the same sort; all of which he knew nothing about.

—We publish in another column of to-day's paper, an article copied from the Cincinnati Times, descriptive of Dr. Roback's extensive Columbus time!

The dilapidated man—who looked as though he might be the hero of every battle field of the war—declared his intention to return and look into the matter as soon as he recovered a tolerable use of his eyes.

We'd advise him not to repeat the whisky, mouths of others, but we have used them in our own family with the very best results. For all diseases of the blood, general debility, whether proceeding from sickness or from natural weakness, indigestion, and all kind-red aliments, we recommend the Scandina-vian Remedies as the very best medicines extant. They are destined to achieve not an sphemeral success, but a permanent and de-served reputation, which will render them a necessity in every family.—Napoleon, O., North West, March 2.
